

STEAM PLANT STUDY IS MADE

Lack Of Funds Prevents Transfer To New Location

A special committee of the city planning commission, appointed to study the financing problem of the steam expansion program, has recommended that the council proceed with plans to install a 40,000 pound capacity boiler in the present location of the steam plant.

The committee met Monday and after surveying the problem reported that it is impossible to finance the establishment of the steam plant in a new location in the 300 block of Ludington street at this time.

The committee, however, recommended that the next two years be devoted to a study and plans for moving the steam plant in the new location at a later date to accommodate the desired expansion of the central heating system.

The installation of a 40,000 pound boiler will meet the immediate problem of the steam load but will not permit extension of existing mains. Some additional customers that can be served by the present mains may be added, however.

Both the planning commission and the council prefer to establish the steam plant in a new location where it will be possible to enlarge sufficiently to meet all future needs, but this is not possible at the present time because of the financing problem.

Strike Held Back On Curb Exchange

New York, March 2 (AP)—Threat of a strike against the New York Curb Exchange was eased last night 15 minutes before the midnight deadline when an official of an AFL union said the walkout had been postponed "for the time being."

The official, M. David Keefe, president of Local 205 of the United Financial Employees Union, gave no other details of the postponement.

Earlier, the same union acceded to the request of a federal mediator and agreed to defer threatened strike action at the New York Stock Exchange until at least tomorrow. Union and Exchange representatives will meet then with mediation officials in another attempt to settle the dispute.

New 4-Jet Fighter, Biggest Ever Built, May Be Supersonic

Los Angeles, March 2 (AP)—The air forces' new four-jet fighter has completed a highly successful maiden test flight.

The XP-87, product of Curtiss Aircraft at Columbus, O., went aloft for more than an hour yesterday with B. Lee Miller of the Curtiss factory at the controls.

The XP-87 is the biggest fighter plane ever built, and is comparable in weight to the giant flying fortress bomber. It is designed to fly 600 MPH and more, with a range of 1,500 miles and a service ceiling of 35,000 feet.

The air forces made no announcement of its speed, but there have been unconfirmed reports that it can break through the sonic speed barrier.

Enlistments in U. S. Air Forces Cut to Two-a-Week Quota

Because U. S. Air Forces enlistments have been running ahead of schedule, the Escanaba area, which includes Escanaba, Soo, Manistique, Marquette, Ishpeming, Negaunee, Iron Mountain and Iron River, has been restricted to two enlistments a week, it was announced here yesterday by T/Sgt. Spencer C. Mathison, Escanaba Army recruiter.

The quota for Wisconsin and Upper Michigan is 25 a week. Of this amount, the Escanaba area allotment is two. Unmarried high school graduates who enlist for specific Air Forces schooling will not come under this quota, however.

Veterans must reenlist within 90 days after separation or else take their chances under the new quotas. Entrance intelligence requirements also have been raised.

MUST REMOVE FISH SHANTIES

Cannot Be Abandoned On Bay Ice When Spring Break-up Comes

Fishermen of Delta county and vicinity who have shanties on bay or lake ice today had their attention directed by John Chriske, district conservation supervisor, to the law which requires them to remove the shanties from the ice before the spring break-up.

There are several hundred fish shanties or houses on Little Bay de Noc. If they are not removed they will sink into the water and foul fishing nets, or float around as hazards to navigation. If they go ashore they make the shoreline unsightly.

Fishermen have been asked to acquaint themselves with the law governing the removal of the shanties, and conservation officers have been advised to intensify law enforcement efforts with arrest of the fish shanty owners when violations occur. Cooperation on the part of the fishermen is requested, since it is almost impossible to remove the shanties after the break-up starts.

Act 134 of the Public Acts of 1943 requires the removal of any fishing shanty or house or other structure or shelter placed on the ice; requires that they carry the name and address of the owner; and provides that they be removed from the ice before the spring break-up.

The law requires that all fishing shanties or houses be removed from the ice by the owner before ice conditions become unsafe, or if unable to do so, to remove them from the water within 30 days after the ice melts. The conserva-

State School Aid Measure Goes to Governor March 10

Lansing, March 2 (AP)—A new state school aid bill, drafted by a 23-man special committee, will be submitted to Governor Sigler March 10 for presentation to the legislature.

Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, said the special committee made one last change in its previously approved text, eliminating a current provision which permits up to 17 per cent of state school aid money to be spent for school construction.

"Since the one-sixth of the sales tax which the schools now get has no strings attached to it and could be spent for construction," Dr. Elliott said, "the committee felt that all of the state aid appropriation ought to go for teachers' salaries."

Veneral Disease Among Teen-agers Up 50% Since 1941

More than 2,700 ten-age girls and boys in Michigan will contract either syphilis or gonorrhea this year, unless there is definite change from the 1947 veneral disease pattern, Dr. J. K. Altland, State Health Commissioner said today.

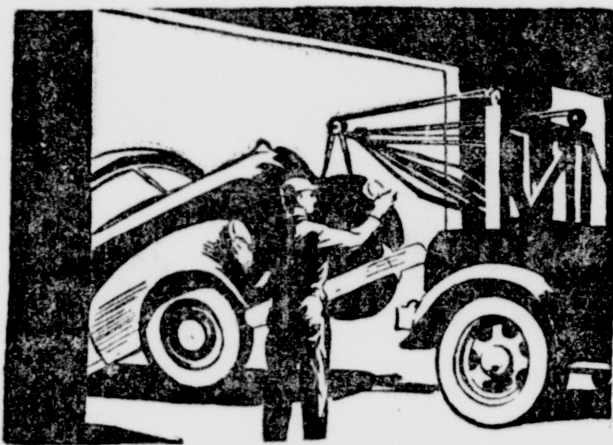

Warning that the yearly incidence of veneral disease among Michigan teen-agers has increased 50 per cent since the beginning of the war, Dr. Altland called on all youth, parents, teachers and community leaders to exert effort to stop this trend. The increase, he pointed out, is in rural as well as urban communities.

Dr. Altland said investigations show that many of the girls and boys infected have little or no knowledge of the seriousness of veneral disease or of the manner in which it is contracted. It is the responsibility of parents, schools and youth leaders to provide this knowledge.

No one is immune to syphilis or gonorrhea. They are usually caught by intimate contact with an infected person. Accidental infections are rare. There are, in Michigan, youngsters who have veneral disease but are unaware of the nature of their illness, and unknowingly spread the infection to others. Only a physician can tell whether a person has syphilis or gonorrhea, and only a physician

DELTA WELFARE COST $58,705

Total For January About
Same As Year Ago;
Case Load Down

The cost of the social welfare and direct relief program in Delta county for the month of Jan. 1948, totaled $58,705.14, a figure slightly higher than for the comparative month the year previous, according to a report from A. M. Gilbert, county welfare department director.

The caseload for the county, except in the category of direct relief, decreased slightly from January 1947, the report shows. Total caseload one year ago was 2,489 compared with 2,381 for January this year.

There were 815 old age assistance cases, 185 aid to dependent children, and 8 aid to the blind, for a total cost of $42,340.30. The program for the above three classifications is financed equally by state and federal funds.

The number of direct relief cases increased from 341 to 365 during the past year, and the cost went up from $10,392.91 to $12,037.28. Direct relief is financed by state and county funds.

County welfare and hospital cost increased from $2,140.96 to $2,578.23. There was a saving represented in the county infirmary program since it has been placed under private management to permit the care of old age assistance cases. This saving as compared with Jan., 1947, was $1,143.37.

Administrative cost for January this year was $1,749.28 compared with $1,439.49 one year ago. Infirmary, county welfare and administrative are finance wholly by county funds.

Local Freight Co. Buys
Cochran's Operating
Rights In U. P.

The Clairmont Transfer company of Escanaba has purchased from the W. D. Cochran Freight Lines of Iron Mountain all of its operating rights in the Upper Peninsula, both inter and intra-city, it was announced today by W. A. Freeman, general manager of Clairmont Transfer.

Operation over the expanded lines in western U. P. will be started by Clairmont Transfer as soon as the Interstate Commerce Commission approves and grants the transfer of authority. This approval was expected to be received either today or within the next couple days, Freeman said.

The Clairmont Transfer company is also assuming the personnel of the Cochran company in the U. P., including about 75 persons; and all terminal facilities operated by Cochran. The terminals are located at Iron Mountain, Marquette, Houghton, Ironwood and Iron River. Clairmont company formerly served Iron Mountain, Marquette, Ishpeming and Negaunee.

The purchase will enable Clairmont to give better service to the western section of the Upper Peninsula and the Copper Country because of direct overnight service out of Chicago, Milwaukee and Green Bay where it now maintains terminals. It will also enable the company to provide second-morning delivery from Duluth, Superior and the Ironwood territory to the eastern part of the Upper Peninsula. The Clairmont company has authority in the latter area at present.

In the expansion of its service, Clairmont Transfer has recently purchased several new trailers, tractors and trucks.

In closing out its freight lines, the W. D. Cochran company is selling operating rights in the Fox River Valley area to the Wesley Freight company of Menominee, subject to ICC approval. The Wesley company has authority to truck the short distance from the state line into Iron Mountain.

What's Wrong At Lansing?

A PAMPHLET, "What's Wrong at Lansing?", a reprint of a series of six articles published in the Detroit News in January, is recommended reading for Michigan residents who wonder why the state is facing its gravest financial crisis in history at the very time tax receipts are at astonishingly high levels.

The articles point out the striking differences between financial management of the state of New York and of the state of Michigan. They show why New York has the next nest egg of $600,000,000 tucked away to be used for the greatest building program in its history when proper conditions and prices present themselves. In contrast, Michigan will use all of its comparatively meager surplus for operating expenses in the 1948-49 fiscal year and thereafter face financial impoverishment.

The Detroit News articles point out, for instance that approximately 70% of the revenues of the state of Michigan are earmarked or restricted for specific purposes, leaving only a small proportion for general purposes. Some departments, such as the highway department, may be bloated with funds while other units of government starve. Except for a very small small allocation to its conservation department, none of New York's state revenue is restricted in its use. The money can be appropriated according to need.

The inadequacy of Michigan's budget department, which should be the watchdog of expenditures of state funds, is discussed at considerable length in the articles. The state budget department lacks both the authority and the means to do the job it is supposed to do. It has no control at all over much of the expenditures of the University of Michigan, Michigan State college, the State Highway Department, Department of Public Instruction, Department of Social Welfare, Department of Health, Department of Revenue, the Land Office board and the Liquor Control commission, to mention just a few of the state agencies that spend considerable of the state's tax revenue.

Soviet Expansion

THE COMMUNIST EXPANSION OF Central Europe, which last week engulfed Czechoslovakia and now threatens to swallow Finland, must certainly assure congressional approval of the Marshall Plan. The emergency aid program for Europe is avowedly an effort to restore the strength of European nations friendly to our government so that they will be better able to withstand the Communist pressures that are inevitably forthcoming.

The next big test will probably come in Italy, which Russia covets avidly. Communist troops are already on the Yugoslav border and Communist activity within Italy itself has been stepped up sharply in recent months.

Thus far Russian expansion in Europe has not collided directly with the officially declared interests of the United States. We have protested the Soviet grab of small nations but all such territory usurped by Russia has been regarded as lying within the Soviet sphere of influence.

Will the Russians stop at this point? That is the question that democratic forces have been asking each other in recent weeks. The answer, obviously, is an emphatic "No." Russia, like Nazi Germany, will not stop at any land grab that she feels can be made without bringing her into open warfare with the western democracies, particularly the United States.

If Russia, acting through its Communist fifth column, grabs control of Italy in the months ahead, we shall be closer to war than at any time since the shooting ended in 1945. For it will mean that Russia, drunk with power, will move next against France, step up its campaign against Greece and Turkey and probably swallow Sweden and Norway in a couple quick gulps.

The next few months are fraught with extreme peril for the world.

The Postal System

THE IDEA that the post office department should be placed on a "business" or "self-sustaining" basis is attacked as a ludicrous theory by the Railway Mail association.

This association, representing employees of the railway mail service, points out that the post office department is one of the few governmental agencies that produces a substantial amount of revenue. But it points out that it should not be expected to earn its own way any more than Congress and the numerous other offices and agencies of the government.

Commenting on this subject, the association's official publication, The Railway

Post Office, states in a recent editorial: "Although postal service is an essential to nearly every individual and to every business, as well as to the social and cultural life of the community, it is singled out, among all public services to be the whipping boy when appropriations are considered."

"Postage rates are fixed by Congress. In the determination of postal rates, due consideration is given to the public welfare and in many cases are deliberately set far below the cost of performance in the interest of unrestricted dissemination of news and knowledge or to encourage the exchange of commodities."

"Yet, when expenditures exceed revenues, the post office department is criticized and the meager salaries paid to postal employees cited as the cause for the so-called deficit. Also, if the postal service is considered primarily as a business instead of a public service, good business practice would prompt immediate expenditures for modern equipment that would be investments in efficiency and economy rather than merely expenditures."

Leap Year Legends

MANY THEORIES concerning the origin of the term "leap year" have come down the centuries, but none of them is altogether satisfactory. So far as demonstrable history is concerned, it is certain that astronomers under Julius Caesar in 46 B. C., having figured that the solar year was 365 days and six hours long, added an extra day every fourth year to the prevailing calendar "to adjust for the 24 hours that had accumulated." Later, it was discovered that this change made the calendar year 11 minutes, 14.49 seconds longer than the solar year, and the Gregorian calendar was "corrected" to provide that "even-hundred" years shall not be counted as leap years unless they can be divided by 400. But even with this arrangement the Gregorian calendar gains slightly more than 44 minutes every century. The National Geographic Society estimates that in about 3,261 years "a full day" of error will have accumulated.

Meanwhile, philologists are trying to learn the source of "leap year." The expression does apply to "the jumping of one day in the week in leap years," as exemplified in March 1, 1947, being a Saturday and March 1, 1948, a Monday; yet something more — nobody really can be sure what — seems to lie beyond the phrase in the dim shadows of Old English or Anglo-Saxon and Old Norse or Icelandic. There were times when "leap" was "hlyp," "lupe" and "leope" and the Oxford dictionary, listing these and other variants, suggests that the whole ancient northern designation "hlaup-yr" derives from a "much older formation." "Saltus lunae" was the medieval Latin.

In Ireland the legends of leap year center in Saint Patrick who, meeting Saint Bridget on the shores of Lough Neagh, is alleged to have found her troubled about the "many tears and lamentations" of certain ladies wanting husbands and being debarred by custom from choosing them for themselves. To solve the problem, Patrick is represented as having allowed the maidens the right of proposal during leap year, "the longest year of the lot." A man who declined to wed was to pay a silk gown for his continued bachelorhood. Over the sea in Scotland a tradition persists to the effect that in the reign of Queen Margaret, in 1288, a law was passed saying: "For ilk yeare knowne as lepe yeare, ilk maiden ladye of bothe highe and lowe estate shall have liberte to bespeke ye man she likes." The sovereign alleged to have approved this legislation was a little girl, "the Maid of Norway," who was five years of age at the date mentioned. She died in 1290, and some mystery surrounded her death—and still bedevils it.

An Idaho woman, divorced, was granted $300 a month for herself and $5 for her dogs. Fallen arches?

WHAT'S THE ORIGIN?

(Scrapbook Item)
Q. Could you tell us the origin of the term bulldozer?—McD. M.

A. Bulldozer is strictly an Americanism. The earliest reference I have found is the 1870's when the name bulldozers was applied to Louisiana vigilantes who made a practice of cowing negroes to prevent them from voting.

But at first the word was spelled with an "s" instead of "z"—bulldozer. Later, to bulldoze and bulldoze came to mean "to intimidate by a show or threat of force." In 1880, C. W. Berry, in "Other Side," wrote: "They pull him out of bed with a revolver to his head and force him to open his own safe. That's called 'bulldozing' a man."

The "Saturday Review" of July 9, 1881, explained that, "A Californian bulldozer is a pistol that carries a bullet heavy enough to destroy human life with certainty."

Soon the spelling with "z" became customary in bulldoze, bulldozing, bulldozer. And to bulldoze lost its earlier meanings and came to designate the act of forcing or compelling by intimidation.

From this meaning the machine for pushing earth took the name bulldozer—it forces ahead, compelling every obstacle to give way before it.

Now how did such a picturesque word originate? The dictionaries usually say "origin unknown."

There may be a clue in the first use of the word, and I am offering this explanation as a theory which may or may not have something to it:

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington. (NEA)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall's public appearances are inclined to be somewhat irregular. He can be exceedingly affable and effective. But

Childs

He had one of his better days when he marched up Capitol Hill to present his $370,000,000 China aid program. On the side, he gave the House Foreign Affairs Committee a few foreign policy pointers which the congressmen should have known, but apparently didn't. It was surprising—and a little alarming—to see how politically biased some of them were on what should be a strictly non-partisan measure.

The whole question of aid to China has become something of a political football. The Republicans seem to be for it because the Democratic administration has been cagey on getting too involved with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Kuomintang government. If the Democrats were proposing a $3,000,000,000 Chinese program, it would be reasonable to expect the GOP to be against it, as too big, or asking why the Chinese didn't go to work and save themselves.

Confusion seemed to run from Chairman Charles A. Eaton of New Jersey, right on down. Dr. Eaton said the program was a "surprise." Secretary Marshall had announced it was coming last November. The only surprise in it was that the original estimates for $300,000,000 aid had been upped to $570,000,000.

EXPLAINS ARMS EMBARGO

Rep. John M. Vorys (R., Ohio) raised the point that since the Chinese problem was 70 per cent military—according to the Chinese budget—he could not understand why there had been a 10 months' embargo on arms shipments to China. The inferred criticism was that the $570,000,000 program called for no military aid.

Secretary Marshall explained in detail. He took full responsibility for having stopped arms shipments from August, 1946, to May, 1947. He had done so because, as ambassador to China, he was trying to bring peace and unite the Yenan and Nanking forces. He could not mediate for peace on one hand, while shipping arms to Chiang Kai-shek's armies on the other.

When he returned to the U. S. as secretary of state, he authorized granting of arms export licenses. Since that time, the Chinese have made only one contract.

In the meantime, the U. S. has furnished the Chinese with 150 combat planes, at $5,000 each, and some 47,000 tons of surplus war supplies. Much was sold for as little as one cent on the dollar.

Vorys asked if the present aid program was not too late or too early. Marshall replied that, as he saw the situation, there were certain concrete things that had to be done by the Chinese, or the major part of the aid would be wasted. It was a mistake, he said, to view the situation as purely a military problem.

LISTS CHINESE "MUSTS"

He was asked by Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas (D., Calif.) what it was the Chinese must do. Marshall said he could answer publicly only in part. He itemized: Develop a government not restricted to a small group; clean up waste and corruption; actively consider the land problem and the peasants. All these things he called important in supporting a guerrilla campaign and in fighting communism.

In answer to questions by Rep. Walter H. Judd (R., Minn.), Marshall said that, as an Army officer, he had given the Chinese advice for a year. He told them they must train their boys in the Army and give them leadership, so they would not lose morale. Material, without leadership, would be wasted. The advice was ignored.

Secretary Marshall admitted to Judd that, if the U. S. moved away from the Chinese situations, it would deteriorate rapidly. He said there was no third party which could take over in China. He agreed that if North China and Manchuria should be lost, the situation in Korea would not be tenable.

American policy in China, he said, was economic, political and anti-Communist, as well as military. The desire was to see a stable China, with a form of government friendly to the U. S. The desire was to support the Chinese government, without putting the U. S. in the position of underwriting it.

The secretary refused to say how long it might be necessary to give aid to China. Nor did he estimate how many billions it might cost to give China all the aid it might need to defeat communism in the Orient.

As chief of staff he should have some idea, and state it.

The first spelling was "bull-dose," and the word meant to flog or intimidate by threat of flogging with a cowhide, i. e., a whip made of braided leather.

Now such a whip was customarily spoken of as a bull-whip. It seems logical then that to bulldoze may have originated from the idea of giving one a dose of the bull (-whip).

Can you classify words into one of the eight divisions? If not, Mr. Colby's leaflet, C-14, not only tells you how important it is, but also instructs you on the method of doing so.

Powerful Stuff!

Good Evening

TAKES COURAGE—Now in the magazines is an advertisement of a new kind of automobile. It has a "crash compartment" and a "crash compartment."

Both of these innovations, along with some other new gadgets, are ostensibly designed to reassure the prospective purchaser. They frighten us to the point where we have decided to hang onto the old car with the old glove compartment.

This new "crash compartment" car has a sponge-rubber-lined receptacle where the glove compartment is on other cars. Bigger, of course.

About the size of a small lady, according to the pictures. When a crash appears imminent, the car's manufacturer suggests, one of the passengers (it doesn't say which one) can drop into the rubber-lined compartment and bounce around for awhile. What the other passengers should do isn't told.

CAUSE OF TROUBLE—We can see where the man who buys one of those "crash compartment" cars is driving right into trouble. Suppose he very innocently suggests a Sunday afternoon ride for the family. Immediately the members of the family will begin speculating on how he is going to arrange the seating. Who will sit beside him in the front seat and receive the protecting of the "crash compartment?" And if he puts his mother-in-law in the back seat, sans rubber-cushioned security, there will be the deuce to pay.

As for the children (and there is a 2.4 of them per family according to national statistics) who will drill them for their roles in the event of a crash? If a "crash compartment" drill is held before the Sunday afternoon drive, Ma may will probably decide the whole thing is too risky anyway, and stay home.

CRASH AND CRUSH—Let us suppose, for the sake of supposing, that you have another couple for a ride in your new "crash compartment" car. You go spinning along, as blithe in spirit as only a new car can make you, while you describe the advantages of the machine. You pridefully explain the "crash compartment" and how it works.

There is a sudden screech of brakes. A "crash" is imminent. Your wife, following instructions, plops down on the floor and into the "crash compartment." Then, from the back seat comes the other couple, fighting and clawing for a place in the rubber-lined alcove. In their panic they knock your hat down over your eyes so you can't see the road and you run off the highway and hit a tree. Meanwhile your wife has been bruised when the back seat couple piled in on top of her, and they have scratched each other to ribbons fighting for a chance at the safety of the "crash compartment."

The solution to such a situation is to build in three or more "crash compartments" so everyone will have a place to bounce into.

CAR OF THE FUTURE—With more and bigger "crash compartments," the automobile of the future will take on a slightly bulbous lines. The automobile will also prove so reassuring to drivers who have heretofore been cautious, that the accident rate will go up considerably.

With rubber-lined alcoves for everybody and plenty of insurance

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Rock—Mr. and Mrs. Herman Johnson are visiting their aunt, Mrs. C. E. Craig, in San Diego, Calif.

Escanaba—Mrs. Fred Deroyer was admitted to St. Francis hospital for treatment of hip injuries sustained when she fell while attending the C. and N. W. club luncheon at the Sherman hotel.

Escanaba—Robert McIntyre has left for Kent, Ohio, to attend the Kent State university short course in news photography.

Manistique—Mrs. M. Barkovich has returned from Milwaukee where she has been spending the past two months. While there Mrs. Barkovich submitted to an operation for removal of goitre.

Gladstone—Charles Murray has returned from Minneapolis where he accompanied Mrs. Murray, who is to undergo surgery at Eitel hospital.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—Victor Moreau, a student of Marquette University in Milwaukee, has been on tour with the University's glee club and received many encores at Elgin, Ill., when the club appeared there recently.

Escanaba—Joseph Bonen has completed negotiations for a Waco bi-plane in Milwaukee, where he is to undergo surgery at Eitel hospital.

Manistique—Management of the Barnes Hotel will be in the hands of Nelson Rousseau, of Escanaba, as of May 1, it was announced today. Louis Tebo, who succeeded W. H. Fox, will retire to other lines of business.

coverage, the driver can be as much of a rugged individualist and careless operator as he pleases.

Place a sufficient number of such cars and drivers or our highways and traffic would no longer flow it would explode.

Cars would speed like bullets with its occupants sitting tensely waiting for the signal to enter the "crash compartments." Some joke in the crowd—and there is always one in every crowd—would pull the warning signal and the driver and passengers would pop into their crash cubicles like gophers into holes. The car would go on until it hit another car or a building. Then the people would emerge from the wreckage, picking pieces of sponge rubber out of their ears.

JUST JOYRIDING—The "crash cowl" is another innovation on this new automobile. It also is made of sponge rubber and is mounted below the windshield and above the instrument panel—a place more appropriately described in an earlier day as the "dash board." The "crash cowl" is supposed to absorb the shock when your head goes plop against it in a sudden accident. To folks accustomed to taking their chances in old cars, the sight of that "crash cowl" waiting to receive their bouncing craniums would be disquieting, to say the least and hardly conducive to relaxation during a joy ride.

WHAT NEXT—Altogether, the sponge rubber era in American motoring is almost too alarming for consideration.

The recognition by car manufacturers that traffic accidents are on the increase and something must be done about it is heartening. They are building cars bigger and safer and stronger—and faster.

What this country needs is more responsible drivers, men and women who will dedicate their driving to all the rules of safety. No car has ever been made, or ever will be made, to assure motorist safety. Combine a good driver and a good car, however, and you have a start toward fewer accidents.

New York (AP)—There is a song that says "Old Soldiers Never Die."

But they do retire.

And one of the toughest and bravest the American army has ever known bowed out this week—Maj. Gen. Ernie Harmon, deputy chief of the ground forces.

Only a brief two-paragraph story announced the retirement of this legendary "soldier's soldier" after 31 years in uniform and service in two World Wars.

But as long as deeds mean more than words the U. S. army will hold in memory the fighting record of "Old Gravel Voice" Harmon, who fought more battles and killed more Germans than any other American tank officer in the second World War.

Crusty and Sentimental

A chunky, squint-eyed man, crusty, rough-talking and sentimental, he was known to officers under him as "The Bull" and "Hardboiled" Harmon. He kept them as nervous as frog legs in a frying pan, but the enlisted men in his command liked him and thought it an honor to fight under him. Because he knew his trade—tank warfare—as well as any man alive.

Ernie landed under fire in French Morocco. His First Armored Division cornered 42,000 Germans in the Tunisian cleanup. He led the same division at Cassino and spearheaded the breakthrough at Anzio.

The doughboys who survived Anzio should love him forever for insisting that tanks instead of infantry lead the drive against the German fortified lines.

"I lost 116 tanks the first day," Ernie said later, "but within a week I had 70 back in action. It's easier to repair a tank than it is to bring half a hundred doughboys back to life."

Harmon returned to America and was given command of a corps. That would have led to his promotion to lieutenant general, but Ernie couldn't stand the boredom of waiting at home for a third star.

Wanted Fighting Post

He wrote General Bradley asking for another fighting post, and Bradley promptly flew him over to command the Second Armored Division in Belgium. Harmon cracked through the Siegfried line. Two months later he made a 100-mile overnight march and smashed three German Panzer Divisions at Celles, where he broke up the fiercest Nazi concentration in the Battle of the Bulge. After the war ended "Old Gravel Voice"—he got that nickname because he talks in a rumbling growl like a concrete mixer in low gear—organized the American constabulary force in Germany.

Ernie saw the horse give way to the tank during his career, and the old army replaced by the new. He sees more changes coming.

"I saw the Cavalry go out after the first World War," he told me once, "and I think the last war was the only one in which tanks will have played such a major role."

Now at 54 Ernie is returning to civil life, as have many fine wartime division commanders. For all his medals and victories, he ended the war at the same rank he began it—a Major General.

Congress somehow never got around afterward to voting that promotion little "Hell on Wheels" Harmon deserved up rather than place a flick.

But knowing Ernie, I'm sure he'd rather have the extra money he has in his heart than one more shiny star on his shoulder.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington. — During the first few months Harry Truman spent in the White House, he kept insisting to friends that he did not want to run for a second term. One term was enough; he wanted to get back to his old love — being a senator from Missouri.

Mrs. Truman — who carries a great deal more weight with Harry Truman than most people suspect — felt exactly the same way, possibly more so.

At that time, however, close friends and political leaders felt just the opposite. They were determined that he should run again, believed he was the only candidate with whom the Democrats would win.

Now, however, the situation is somewhat reversed. Today the political leaders desperately don't want Truman to run, but are afraid he has the bit in his teeth and can't be persuaded to bow out.

Bob Hannegan, the man who two years ago repeatedly denied that Truman would not run again and who was the first to propose his name publicly for re-election, is now privately sorry he ever made the suggestion.

Ed Flynn of the Bronx, who helped nominate Truman at the 1944 Chicago convention, is also convinced that Truman's name on the ticket means certain defeat. Southern leaders, of course, are not even private about it. They want to junk Truman at any cost.

But although Truman two years ago would have been quite in the mood to bow out, today it may be different. After all, human nature is human nature, and Harry Truman is known to be a stubborn man. Sometimes when his friends, such as Tom Pendergast or Ed Pauley or Gen. Wallace Graham, are under fire, he has gone to extreme lengths to buck outraged public opinion.

So it may take not merely rebellion but careful planning to erase the name of Harry S. Truman from the Democratic ballot in Philadelphia come July. You can't beat somebody with nobody, and the first thing Democratic rebels need is an opposition candidate.

Note—To this end, southern Democrats have made a subrosa move in the direction of Senator Barkley of Kentucky.

RED CIRCLE AROUND ITALY

You can now put a red circle around April 18 as the next big day for Red Russia. That's the date of the Italian elections and the date, when the Communists will attempt their next Czechoslovakia.

The Russian goal in Italy is to win 40 per cent of the April balloting. If so, they will attempt to move all other political parties out of the cabinet and take over Italy completely.

In preparation, a secret Red battalion of about 250,000 men, including Yugoslavs, has moved into northern Italy and infiltrated into key places.

Meanwhile also, the Russians are spending millions of lira in Italy. Money is being pumped in as never before to undo the results of the Friendship Train and other American relief to Italy. Most important fact about the Soviet money is that it's spent where it counts most. Much of it goes to subsidize key labor leaders.

In contrast, the American propaganda funds were cut to the bone by Congress last year, but even the money we do have isn't spent too effectively. Instead of getting our motion pictures out into the theatres where people will see them, they are played at special showings in American embassies and consulates with the cream of society—already pro-American—attending.

LABOR AMBASSADORS

In contrast, American labor leaders, such as Luigi Antonini of the International Ladies Garment Workers and key men in the Amalgamated Clothing Workers could exert great influence with their friends in Italy. And they would be delighted to do so if they got one word of encouragement or guidance from the state department.

But the boys in the so-called propaganda division of the state department seem to be sitting on their hands, waiting for their new chief, a career diplomat who has been ambassador to Iran, to take over.

During the war, one of the best jobs of undercutting the enemy was done by patriotic American labor leaders who contacted labor groups behind enemy lines. In the present cold war, however, we completely neglect these tactics. A million dollars wisely spent under the guidance of certain American labor unions through their fellow unions in Italy right now, might turn the tide on April 18 and save millions of dollars later.

Note 1—Best job of influencing Italy recently has been done by Generoso Ponde's "Il Progresso" in New York and by Vincent Imbellitteri, acting mayor of New York. They have inspired thousands of Italo-Americans to write friends and relatives dispelling Communist lies about the U. S. A.

Note 2—Italy is next on the Russian timetable because a Red army is on its Yugoslav border. Moscow has found that revolt in western Europe cannot be successful unless the Red army is nearly ready to march in. That was the case in Czechoslovakia. Revolt in France failed last winter partly because the Red army was too far away. If it once gets into Italy, however, it will be next door to France and the rest of western Europe can be considered virtually Sovietized.

The regular garbage collection in outlying areas of Escanaba will be delayed a few days this week because of heavy snow, it was announced today by Joseph Holmes, city maintenance foreman.

As soon as city crews complete the snow removing job, extra trucks will be put on to clean the alleys quickly.

Goal Of Bishop's Relief Fund
For War Victims Is $5,000,000

Catholics of the United States will be called upon to raise five million dollars for the relief of war victims overseas on Sunday, March 7. The nation-wide appeal is being made by the Catholic Bishops of America in behalf of their two relief agencies—The Bishops' Emergency and Relief Committee and War Relief Service—National Catholic Welfare Conference. Children in the parochial schools have been contributing their pennies since Ash Wednesday, Feb. 11th and will continue to do so throughout Lent.

St. Joseph's, St. Ann's and St. Patrick's churches of Escanaba will participate in the drive, with special collections at all masses on Sunday. Contributors in this area may take or mail their offerings to the nearest Catholic rectory. Handy coin receptacles also have been placed in business houses for the convenience of the public. Father Spelgatti, of Marquette, diocesan war relief director of the Marquette diocese, has announced.

Directors of the joint relief organizations estimate that they can carry on their farflung charitable activities for another year if the $5,000,000 goal is achieved. Since 1943, the two agencies have maintained a vast program of relief and rehabilitation work in 61 war-stricken countries throughout Europe and the Far East. Over 206,670,000 pounds of foodstuff, clothing and medicine, valued at $122,160,000 have been distributed wherever help was most needed, regardless of race, creed or color.

Program Continued

Organized primarily as a wartime measure, War Relief Services, N. C. W. C. set up a tremendous relief network in record time, and during the war changed thousands of tons of food and clothing to bombed-out areas. With the end of the war, the organization continued its program, concentrating particularly on the problems of Displaced Persons, the sick and aged and little children.

In 1947 alone, some 66,786,000 pounds of food, clothing and medical supplies, bearing a total value of $27,000,000 were shipped or flown abroad and distributed to the destitute, to hospitals, orphanages and homes for the sick and the aged. Among the countries receiving aid were Austria, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, Germany, Greece, Italy, the Netherlands, Poland, Roumania, China, India, Japan and the Philippines.

War Relief Services, N. C. W. C. works closely with indigenous Catholic charitable agencies in each country thus getting food and clothing more quickly into the hands of those who need it most and saving a great deal on administrative costs. The monies thus saved are turned into the general relief fund.

Goal Of Bishop's Relief Fund
For War Victims Is $5,000,000

Catholics of the United States will be called upon to raise five million dollars for the relief of war victims overseas on Sunday, March 7. The nation-wide appeal is being made by the Catholic Bishops of America in behalf of their two relief agencies—The Bishops' Emergency Fund and Relief Committee and War Relief Service—National Catholic Welfare Conference. Children in the parochial schools have been contributing their pennies since Ash Wednesday, Feb. 11th and will continue to do so throughout Lent.

St. Joseph's, St. Ann's and St. Patrick's churches of Escanaba will participate in the drive, with special collections at all masses on Sunday. Contributors in this area may take or mail their offerings to the nearest Catholic rectory. Handy coin receptacles also have been placed in business houses for the convenience of the public. Father Spelgatti, of Marquette, diocesan war relief director of the Marquette diocese, has announced.

Directors of the joint relief organizations estimate that they can carry on their farflung charitable activities for another year if the $5,000,000 goal is achieved.

Since 1943, the two agencies have maintained a vast program of relief and rehabilitation work in 61 war-stricken countries throughout Europe and the Far East. Over 206,670,000 pounds of foodstuff, clothing and medicine, valued at $122,160,000 have been distributed wherever help was most needed, regardless of race, creed or color.

Organized primarily as a wartime measure, War Relief Services, N. C. W. C. set up a tremendous relief network in record time, and during the war channeled thousands of tons of food and clothing to bombed-out areas. With the end of the war, the organization continued its program, concentrating particularly on the problems of Displaced Persons, the sick and aged and little children.

In 1947 alone, some 66,786,000 pounds of food, clothing and medical supplies, bearing a total value of $27,000,000 were shipped or flown abroad and distributed to the destitute, to hospitals, orphanages and homes for the sick and the aged. Among the countries receiving aid were Austria, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, France, Germany, Greece, Italy, the Netherlands, Poland, Roumania, China, India, Japan and the Philippines.

War Relief Services, N. C. W. C., works closely with indigenous Catholic charitable agencies in each country thus getting food and clothing more quickly into the hands of those who need it most and saving a great deal on administrative costs. The monies thus saved are turned into the general relief fund.

Relief In Roumania

Despite great difficulties, War Relief Services was able to establish a relief program in Roumania during the past year, sent 100,000 pounds of much-needed cornmeal and 75,000 pounds of flour in its first shipment to the country. Since then 1,447,651 pounds of food, clothing and medicine have been shipped to the country and distributed by a special fleet of N. C. W. C. trucks.

In both Germany and Japan, War Relief Services operates with the permission of the U. S. Military Government Control. Over 10,690,977 pounds of food, clothing and medicines have been given out in the American, British and French zones in Germany. In Japan, the major emphasis has been on child-feeding programs. Quonset huts, cement and building materials have also been distributed for the erection of homes and hospitals.

In addition to its general relief program, War Relief Services maintains many special programs including immigration aid to refugees and Displaced Persons, help for prisoners of war, specialized feeding program for sick children and extensive educational programs for needy students.

NOTICE

Application for the position of Veteran's Councilor and Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce may be made until Saturday noon, March 6 at the counseling center opposite the post office.

SEEK NEW VET
COUNCELLOR

Duties Will Include
That Of C of C
Secretary

The Schoolcraft County Council of Veterans Affairs has a very good position to offer someone in this vicinity but members of that body are letting it be known that the qualifications will have to be much more than ordinary.

The council is looking for a man to succeed Leonard Mulhaupt as veteran counsellor and as secretary to the Schoolcraft-Manistique Chamber of Commerce. Mulhaupt resigned to enter private business after serving in that capacity for about two years. His resignation was accepted with keen regret as his work has generally been highly regarded. The council aims to secure a man as near his caliber as possible.

Applications for the position will be open until Saturday noon. They should be presented at the counselling center, opposite the street from the post office.

While Mulhaupt states that he will give every assistance possible to his successor, his new duties will keep him very busy and the time he can give in this matter will, of necessity, be limited.

Maggie Is Rescued
From Watery Grave
By Fire Laddies

Maggie, the roly poly cocker spaniel belonging to Maurice, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Creeger, is leading the life of a canine. Rely these days. Members of the household are showering her with affection and feeding her more tidbits than are probably good for a fat and wobbly dog. It's all because this member of the household suddenly became very dear. They nearly lost her last Sunday.

The Creegers were out to the carter's docks that afternoon. Maggie, left to her own devices, scouted around with nobody paying any attention to her until somebody heard a splash. It was then discovered that she had fallen into the open water where the ferry had been a short time before. She tried to get a footing on the ice, but it was so slippery that every attempt failed. Mr. Creeger got the tow rope and tried to fasten the hook at the end of it onto the dog's collar, but nothing came of it. The dog's cries were pitiful and the children were loud in their lamentations.

BEATINGS GIVEN AT VA HOSPITAL

Attendants Suspended During Investigation At Battle Creek

Battle Creek, Mich., March 2 (AP)—Four attendants at the Veterans Administration hospital here were suspended today during an investigation into the beating of patients.

The 30-day suspensions are tantamount to dismissal except that the attendants have the right of appeal to the civil service commission.

Those suspended, according to Dr. Roger P. Hentz, hospital manager, were Earl L. Guillot, 24, Clarence P. Larsen, 43, Raymond E. Gallimore, 21, and Howard L. Cagle, 20.

Dr. Hentz said others may be suspended.

The action followed a six-day probe that began with the report of the beating of Edward Demski, 28, of Detroit, Feb. 12 by two attendants in the mess hall.

Dr. Hentz said inquiry showed that at least 12 other patients had legitimate complaints against the four attendants.

Investigators of the VA Division at Columbus, O., took over an inquiry begun by hospital authorities into the assaults and drew up the complaints that led to the suspensions.

Dr. Hentz said a transcript of the testimony taken during the inquiry will be sent to the United States attorney at Detroit for possible criminal action.

The hospital houses 2,100 patients and 450 attendants.

Wide Section Hit By Rain and Snow

Chicago, March 2 (AP)—Rain, sleet and snow pelted a wide section of the country today and motor travel skidded along at a slow pace.

The snow belt extended from eastern Colorado through Kansas, parts of Nebraska, Iowa, northern Illinois, southeastern Wisconsin, southern Lower Michigan to western New York.

There also was snow in the Red River valley of North Dakota and Minnesota and near the Canadian border in the Rocky Mountains. Iowa City, Ia., reported a fall of nine inches.

Rain fell from the Carolinas across Tennessee and Kentucky to Indiana, Illinois and southern Missouri. A band of freezing rain made driving hazardous from central Missouri into Illinois and to Fort Wayne, Ind.

FORCE ORDERED FOR HOLY LAND

British Troops Crack Down On Both Jews And Arabs

Jerusalem, March 2 (AP)—British troops were ordered today to crack down on both Jewish and Arab aggressors in Jerusalem.

Brig. C. P. Jones, commander of the British Jerusalem garrison, told his troops last night that force must be used impartially against both.

"Prolonged firing between Arabs and Jews within Jerusalem makes life intolerable for its inhabitants," his directive said. "Such disturbances will not continue. Force will be used in incidents of this kind. The army will, if necessary, use weapons more powerful than those available to Arabs and Jews."

Jones said it is impossible to determine who is the aggressor in Holy City fighting.

"The army will therefore use its weapons impartially against whichever side is firing," he declared.

His statement followed one by the British mandate government which charged the Jewish agency with condoning terrorism.

The government's charge all but severed relations with the Jewish agency, political representative of Palestine's 700,000 Jews.

revision movement in the House, telling reporters: "I am for continuation of the act only with restrictive amendments."

He proposed these changes:

1. Congressional ratification with a majority vote in each House, before any trade pact becomes effective.
2. Permit court suits by any person considering himself injured by a trade agreement—including the right of injunction against enforcement if he can prove injury.
3. Limit the "most favored nation" clause to "those countries that do not discriminate against us." Under this clause all nations which signed the reciprocal trade agreement get—on any given commodity—a tariff rate equal to the lowest rate the United States has agreed for any single nation.

Rep. Mills (D-Ark.) said the "ratification" amendment "would simply mean the killing of the reciprocal trade program."

PAROLES COST THUGS $10,000

Former Truman Party Boss Bares Deal With Capone Gangsters

Chicago, March 2 (AP)—Attorney Paul Dillon says he received $10,000 for his legal services in connection with the paroles of four former Capone gangsters.

Dillon, a former campaign manager for President Truman in St. Louis, told reporters yesterday there was "nothing improper" about the paroles.

The 70-year-old St. Louis attorney, who appeared before a federal grand jury investigating the paroles, told reporters: "I got $10,000 for my legal services and nothing more." He declined to elaborate.

After his appearance before the grand jury Dillon was handed a subpoena to appear March 9 in Washington before the congressional sub-committee investigating the paroles. When Dillon appeared before the group last fall he related he helped the former hoodlums get out of prison but received no fee.

Later, however, Mrs. Charlotte Campagna testified she had given Dillon $10,000 for help in freeing her husband, Louis (Little New York) Campagna. Campagna and three other former Capone gangsters, Phil D'Andrea, Paul (The Walzer) Ricca and Charles (Cherry Nose) Gioe, were paroled from federal prison last August. They had served one-third of a 10-year sentence for participating in a $1,000,000 extortion plot against the motion picture industry.

Central Michigan Gets Snow; Drifts Pile Up In Chicago

A severe snowstorm struck central Michigan today forcing Midland to close all its schools.

Emergency city and county removal crews were called in to battle the drifting snow.

Reports from that area termed the storm the worst of the season.

Chicago had six inches of snow which was whipped into drifts by northeast winds off Lake Michigan. Trains from the west were arriving as much as an hour late and there also were late arrivals from Detroit and New York.

New York received a light snowfall of one and a half inches, bringing its total for the winter to 58.4 inches, second highest total in history. The city had 77.6 inches in 1892-93.

Spectacular Fire In Detroit Causes Loss Over $500,000

Detroit, March 2 (AP)—Only the crumbled brick walls of a three-story warehouse were left standing today after a spectacular fire called Detroit's most destructive in recent years.

The blaze, of undetermined origin, caused damage estimated upwards of $500,000.

Raging flames, fought by firemen more than four hours, destroyed large quantities of wrapping paper, groceries and construction material owned by three firms using the building.

No one was inside the structure when the fire started.

The first of five alarms was turned in at 7:15 last night.

A brisk wind fanned the flames and threw sparks to the rooftops of other buildings in the city's West Lafayette industrial section.

Flames shot 50 feet in the air as the roof of the warehouse collapsed. Observers in Windsor across the Detroit river reported the sky was brilliantly lit.

Briefly Told

Pleads Guilty — Mrs. Gertrude Johnson pleaded guilty to a charge of driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor when she was arraigned in justice court here this morning. She was fined $50 and costs and her driver's license was revoked.

In 1921 there were 100,000 cases of smallpox reported in the United States.

Black.

Suspects Rounded Up
Black said he would confer before the conference with Toy and State Liquor Commissioner Harry Henderson, who have been operating in a campaign to close Detroit bars which are underworld hangouts.

Black said the two would "brief" him for the conference. They have asked whether police may padlock such hoodlum rendezvous pending formal liquor commission action.

Sigler's conference was the first move to pin down rumors arising since state parole officers two weeks ago arrested James Tamer, a parolee, on charges of consorting with known criminals.

Tamer was returned to prison as a parole violator, but police explained a series of conflicting allegations and the reports spread that he had been involved in a hockey league gambling "fix." A number of Tamer's associates since have been arrested as Toy declared war on the underworld and ordered a general roundup of all Detroit hoodlums.

The sensational Hooper case bounced into the mix when two convicts, Stanley Wrobel, a lifer, and Alfred Kurner, the "tip off" man in the Hooper slaying, escaped from the Cassidy Lake prison camp.

Rearrested, they contended they had escaped to reach the cars of someone able to give Sigler new information on the Hooper murder.

Truman's Vacation Headgear Arouses Envy Of Associates

Key West, Fla., March 2 (AP)—President Truman followed a familiar vacation pattern today as he sauntered around this submarine base in a pair of pinkish slacks and an open-neck sports shirt.

Sauntering with him were some of his closest confidants in an odd assortment of togery and a wide variety of hats. This, Mr. Truman's fourth presidential vacation in Florida's sunshine, features walking, swimming and sunbathing.

The President reads his mail, including reports from all his cabinet, each morning before going down to him by Courier plane together with his official correspondence.

Frequently there are talks to Washington officials over a direct telephone circuit to the White House.

He told a news conference yesterday he gets as much work done here as he could in Washington. It's simply a change in scenery, he said.

The president's party usually moves in a group to the enlisted men's bath in the morning to swim and bask in the sun.

They all went fishing yesterday.

Mr. Truman whose collection of headgear is the envy of his associates, appeared in a new long-billed cap with built-in sun glasses.

Already equipped with a white sulky cap, a salt-and-pepper sea-board headpiece, a pith helmet, a valet cap and a variety of other numbers, he bought this one from a secret service man who picked it up in Key West.

There was a rush to the same store by other members of his party for similar ones.

It had no fascination for Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy, however. The Admiral went fishing in a battered old felt of ancient vintage.

Costa Rica Banks Closed For Crisis In Election Fight

San Jose, Costa Rica, March 2 (AP)—President Roldos Picado ordered all Costa Rica's banks closed today and tomorrow as tension heightened in the nation's political crisis.

Gunplay broke out here last night shortly after Congress had annulled the victory of newspaper publisher Otilio Ulate Blanco in the Feb. 8 presidential elections. Today the nation awaited a general strike order by Ulate's Union Nacional party.

Picado said he would suspend civil rights and invoke martial law if the party goes through with the strike.

ANTI-RUSSIAN FEELING HIGH IN 3 NATIONS

"We do not believe in a state community where people live as slaves. For that reason we will join in efforts to build up a strong defense which will show that Denmark wants to remain a free country."

In traditionally neutral Sweden, the press came out strongly for more effective cooperation with the western states.

"By sticking together loyally," the liberal Goeteborg Handelstidning said, "democracies can prevent Russia from subduing one country after another. Everyone knows that the United States must be the core of this resistance. But a condition is also that western Europe does not degenerate, but place herself as a strong partner by America's side."

Norway is the only European country with a Russian frontier that has remained independent of the Soviet sphere of influence.

She had hoped to join Sweden and Denmark in a neutral bloc friendly with both the western powers and Russia.

Recent events in eastern Europe and Finland, have lessened this desire for neutrality.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS

SPORTS

BY JIM WARD

Although the "big four" of Upper Peninsula Class B basketball are battling elsewhere, rivalry in the Escanaba district meet here this Thursday, Friday and Saturday promises to be intense as any.

A possible exception, and to this we think you will all agree, is the Marquette district meet in Ishpeming where Negaunee (14 wins, two losses) Ishpeming (12 and three) and Marquette (11 and four) will clash for the Class B title. They've staged a cat-and-dog fight all season long, with Negaunee coming out on top, but any of the three are capable of capturing the district title and going on to take the U. P. championship.

The fourth member of the "big four" is Bessemer, defending champion and reputed to be as strong as last season. Bessemer posted a very commendable record of 14 victories and two defeats this season. Only one U. P. team succeeded in beating Bessemer this season. That was Marquette, and the score was 60-47. Wayne Nystrom, Marquette center, made 30 points in that melee. Incidentally, Nystrom duplicated that feat in Marquette's closing 47-39 triumph over Newberry last Friday night.

Don't be too sure that one of those four will be the U. P. champion, however. Menominee, Iron Mountain and Escanaba may have had just so-so season records, with the Maroons and Mountaineers having a slight edge over the Eskymos, but they all have considerable latent power that may suddenly explode in tournament play.

High school basketball is a bit difficult to predict. On more than one occasion, a team with a mediocre season's record has risen to great heights in tournament play.

Menominee, Iron Mountain and Escanaba—and Kingsford, too—are definite darkhorses. And they'll all be seen in action in the Escanaba district meet here Thursday.

And don't discount your Eskymos. Remember, they defeated Kingsford, 42-28 here and 38-35 there, lost to Iron Mountain by only 43-41 here and 43-42 there and were turned back by Menominee by only a four-point margin here, 48-44. They may surprise you.

A check of the record shows that Escanaba scored 520 points to 510 for its opponents in winning six and losing eight during the regular season just closed. That may surprise you, too. Wide margins over Kingsford, Gladstone and Manistique and heart-breaking narrow losses enabled the Eskymos to outscore their opponents over the full route.

Many local basketball fans are puzzled by the practice of seeding. In a nutshell, MHSAA regulations require that the two leading teams be seeded at the top and bottom of the bracket. The leading teams are selected on the basis of success in competition with other schools of the same class only during the regular season.

For instance, in Class B in the Escanaba district, Menominee and Iron Mountain have the best records against Class B competition. Therefore, they are seeded, and the four others—Escanaba, Kingsford, Manistique, Stephenson—draw for positions to complete the bracket of eight. Iron Mountain and Menominee, therefore, are seeded through the first round. As a reward for having the best records, they are seeded, and in this instance, it means a first-round bye.

Escanaba district winners—Gladstone, Norway and St. Joseph's will battle it out for Class C honors—will compete in the Upper Peninsula or regional finals in Ironwood.

And this year, for the first time since 1932, U. P. B-C-D winners will compete in the state finals. They will be paired against the Petoskey regional winners.

When polled last fall, Upper Peninsula schools voted by nearly a two-thirds majority to send their champions across the Straits to fight it out with Lower Peninsula finalists.

The Escanaba Delta Hardware's, in quest of their first Northern Wisconsin-Michigan league championship, can clinch at least a tie in this season's race by defeating the Hermansville Silver Foxes at the junior high tonight. A victory would also assure them of a place in the NWM playoffs. This feature contest of an interesting double-header will get underway at 8:30. The preliminary between Oberg's Service and State Bank will begin at 7:15.

The main game is equally important to the Foxes because they have to win in order to stay in the title chase. If they can topple the Hardware's, as they did once already this year, all they would need to win the championship is win over Niagara at Hermansville. If the locals lose tonight they would be faced with the difficult, if not impossible, task of beating Niagara here and then knocking off the Big Joe Bakers at

Bethany Has 4-Game Lead in Church Dart

March 6 Deadline For Hermansville Gold Medal Meet

Hermansville—Saturday, March 6, is the deadline for entries for the annual Hermansville Gold Medal independent basketball tournament, outstanding event of its kind in the Upper Peninsula and a favorite of long standing.

Class B play, in which the Munising Cox Chevs will defend the title they won last year, will get underway Monday, March 15, and continue through March 21, and Class A play will begin Friday, March 19, and continue through March 21. The Bark River Tom Swifts, now playing as the Hardware's of Escanaba and leading the NWM circuit, won the Class A championship last season.

Approximately 40 teams are expected to battle it out. Two trophies and 71 individual awards in each class will be given. Among them are the Joe Rodman trophy to the outstanding player, last year won by Bob Ranquette, Escanaba, and a new award, the Glenn Fleetwood sportsmanship award.

Fred Vescolani, Carney, and Joe Novack, Powers, both MHSAA-approved referees, will officiate.

The Hermansville gym has a seating capacity of 750.

City Basketball

Last night's results: Cloverland college 34, Bridges 26. An upset. Don Lewis and Charles Camps each scored 19. Mike's Bar 39, Gladstone Lions 31, with Carl Johnston hitting 17 and Bob Dufour, 12. Rapid River beat Oberg's, 41-31, with Jim Kessler hitting 18 and Norman Slough collecting 14. Dick Schram officiated.

Pete Dube Captures Two-Mile Exhibition

Pete Dube, veteran Escanaba speed skater and trainer of many world champions, again demonstrated his talent at the ripe age of 69 by racing to a clear-cut victory over Harold Lamberg, Gladstone speedster, in an exhibition prior to the Escanaba Hawk-Marquette Loan hockey game here. To put it mildly, La Dube was never worried.

Lutherans Bow to Press in Dartball

The Escanaba Daily Press dartball team won two out of three from the Gladstone Lutheran Brotherhood team at the Press last night. The Press won 6-3, 5-3 and had a lead in the third game, but the Brotherhood came from behind to win, 5-4 in 11 innings. The game between the Gladstone Lutheran and Immanuel Lutheran scheduled to be held at Immanuel Lutheran this evening has been postponed until next Monday night.

SOO TECH WINS
Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., March 2 (P)—A basketball quintet from Michigan Tech easily trounced the invading Detroit Tech squad 53 to 45 last night.

Stambaugh, something which hasn't been done all season. As the NWM season moves toward its climax it becomes increasingly apparent that a team must maintain a perfect home record to qualify for the NWM flag.

Manager Glen Fleetwood will start the Steve Machalk and his twin brother, Mike, at forwards, their big brother, Tony, at center, and T. Marana and L. Floriana at guards. Three other players, who can step and break up a close game if the first-stringers tire, are B. Mauli, J. Sutherland, and J. Tuscan. The rest of the squad consists of J. Pierpon, R. Maule, G. St. Juliana, and R. Fochesto.

Dick Schram and Ray Ranquette will handle both games.

Michigan Cops Big Nine Basketball Title Eskymos, Flivs Tangle In District Meet

51-35 Win Over Iowa Gains U-M First Loop Pennant In 21 Years

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 2 (P)—The University of Michigan, which gobbled up all Western Conference football laurels last fall, today added the Big Nine basketball championship to its accomplishments.

The Wolverines defeated a stubborn Iowa quintet 51-35 last night for Michigan's first undisputed Big Nine basketball title in 21 years.

It was a nip and tuck struggle all the way, with Iowa's Murray Wier—top scorer of the Big Nine this season—locked in a scoring duel with Michigan's Mack Suprunowicz. Each netted 14 points. Wier, whose season total of 272 broke the mark of 255 set by Andy Phillips of Illinois in 1943, kept Iowa right in the fight in the first half as he tossed in three one-hand push shots.

But the stout Michigan defense stopped him in the last half while Suprunowicz tossed in four field goals for Michigan in the final period.

Wolves Catch Fire
Michigan built up a 29-22 half-time lead only to see the hard-fighting Iowa club bounce back to take a 30-29 lead as it held Michigan scoreless for 10 minutes.

Pete Elliott dropped in a two-pointer to give Michigan a 31-30 advantage, but Wier hit a free throw to make it 31-31.

Then Michigan caught fire.

Suprunowicz's four long side shots swished through the basket without even touching the rim. That gave Michigan a lead and the ball game.

Pete Elliott's close guarding of the diminutive Wier was one of the principal reasons for the Wolverine win. He held Wier to one field goal and a free toss in the last 20 minutes.

NCAA Tourney Berth
The victorious Wolves finished their Big Nine competition with a record of 10 wins and two losses. Iowa, which could have been co-champion of the league by knocking off the Wolverines, ended up with an 8 and 4 record. The triumph gave Michigan an almost complete hold on the region 4, or midwestern section, berth in the coming NCAA basketball championships, which will be played at Kansas City, with the finals in New York.

It is generally accepted that the Western Conference champion will be named as contender from the Midwest. All that remains is the formal offer to Michigan and acceptance by the Ann Arbor team.

Mountaineers, Maroons Seeded In 'B'; St. Joe Meets Norway In Opener

Iron Mountain was seeded at the top of the bracket and Menominee has the choice spot in the lower bracket of Class B competition in the Escanaba district high school basketball tournament as the result of official pairings made in the office of Edward E. Edick, Escanaba high school principal and tourney manager, yesterday afternoon.

The luck of the draw pitted Escanaba, host school, against Kingsford and Manistique against Stephenson in first-round Class B play. Both Iron Mountain and Menominee have byes. They were accorded seeded positions on the basis of having the best competitive records in regular scheduled play.

In Class C, Gladstone's record netted it a first-round bye. The Braves will meet the winner of the St. Joseph's-Norway game for the class C title.

The tourney will get underway at 6:40 p. m., Thursday, in the Escanaba junior high school gym with St. Joe opposing Norway. At 8 p. m., Thursday, Stephenson and Manistique will tangle, and the opening night's program will be concluded with the Escanaba-Kingsford clash at 9:20.

At 7 p. m., Friday, Iron Mountain meets the Stephenson-Manistique winner, and at 8:30 p. m., Friday, Menominee will tangle with the winner of the Escanaba-Kingsford game. Both are Class B semifinals tilts.

Final in both classes will be played Saturday night, with the C finale at 7 and the B championship battle at 8:30.

Coaches and others attending the drawings here yesterday were Allan Ronberg, Norway; Dutch Cummings, Kingsford; Omer J. Lajeunesse, Iron Mountain; Jim Rouman, Escanaba; Eldon Keil, Gladstone; Father Varin, St. Joseph's; Steve Baltic, Escanaba, and Edick.

In loving memory of our husband, father and grandfather, Clarence Alvin Burnham, who passed away one year ago, March 2, 1947.
The dearest husband, father, and grandfather, a world could hold. A cherished smile, a heart of gold. Those who knew him, all will know. How much we lost, one year ago.
The blow was hard, the shock severe. We never thought his death so near. Only those who loved can tell. The pain of parting without farewell.

Man Sewed Up With 150 Stitches Dies

Phoenixville, Pa., (P)—Walter Wood, 24, died in Phoenixville hospital, eight days after doctors had put 150 stitches in his bullet-punctured heart, lung and stomach.

Dr. J. Elmer Gotwals, coroner, physician, said Wood, a resident of Royersford, Pa., suffered an acute dilation of the heart shortly before he died.

Gotwals said his investigation showed all Wood's damaged organs had been repaired successfully in a five-hour operation. A severe strain from the heart wound caused Wood's death, Dr. Gotwals said.

Dr. Robert E. Brant, associate chief surgeon at the hospital, said that Wood had been conscious all week until shortly before his death. Dr. Brant said police investigators told him Wood shot himself in his home.
